

Notice of Extended Coverage to Participants Covered Under a Group Health Plan

Federal legislation known as “Michelle's Law” generally extends eligibility for group health benefit plan coverage to a dependent child who is enrolled in an institution of higher education at the beginning of a medically necessary leave of absence if the leave normally would cause the dependent child to lose eligibility for coverage under the plan due to loss of student status. The extension of eligibility protects eligibility of a sick or injured dependent child for up to one year.

Collier County Government Group Health Plan (the “Plan”) currently permits an employee to continue a child’s coverage thru the end of the year that the child turns 26. If that child is enrolled at an accredited institution of learning on a full-time basis, with full-time defined by the accredited institution’s registration and/or attendance policies. Michelle's Law requires the Plan to allow extended eligibility in some cases for a dependent child who would lose eligibility for Plan coverage due to loss of full-time student status.

There are two definitions that are important for purposes of determining whether the Michelle's Law extension of eligibility applies to a particular child:

- Dependent child means a child of a plan participant who is eligible under the terms of a group health benefit plan based on his or her student status and who was enrolled at a post-secondary educational institution immediately before the first day of a medically necessary leave of absence.
- Medically necessary leave of absence means a leave of absence or any other change in enrollment:
 - of a dependent child from a post-secondary educational institution that begins while the child is suffering from a serious illness or injury;
 - which is medically necessary; and
 - which causes the dependent child to lose student status under the terms of the Plan.

For the Michelle’s Law extension of eligibility to apply, a dependent child’s treating physician must provide written certification of medical necessity (i.e., certification that the dependent child suffers from a serious illness or injury that necessitates the leave of absence or other enrollment change that would otherwise cause loss of eligibility).

If a dependent child qualifies for the Michelle's Law extension of eligibility, the Plan will treat the dependent child as eligible for coverage until the earlier of:

- One year after the first day of the leave of absence; or
- The date that Plan coverage would otherwise terminate (for reasons other than failure to be a full-time student).

A dependent child on a medically necessary leave of absence is entitled to receive the same Plan benefits as other dependent children covered under the Plan. Further, any change to Plan coverage that occurs during the Michelle’s Law extension of eligibility will apply to the dependent child to the same extent as it applies to other dependent children covered under the Plan.
